[From the Daily Cincinnati Gazette.] The Relations of Races in the United

This continent was inhabited by a colored racea totally distinct race from ours—when we came here. Why are they not here now? Why have not the millions of red men grown parellel with our own, like the blacks? They have done so in Mexico, why not here? The answer is ready. The only mode in which they could do it would be a perfect parellel in or equality in conditions, social and political, which would result in amalgamation. In Mexico it has done so; in the United States it has not. The Celt was willing to do so. The Anglo-Saxon was not. The red man of the United States was also more savage. He would not even be a cultivator, and the Anglo-American would not allow him to be anything else. The Indian would not be a slave, and what has followed? He is substantially extinguished His very name and existence will soon be forever destroyed, except in antiquarian legends.

In Africa the native black is ferocious enough and brave enough. But exiled and educated to obedience, on the one hand, and to ignorance, on the other, he is become docile and tractable. remains a slave, protected in life and subsistence by the fact that it is the interest of his master to protect, and, like domestic animals, to feed him well. In this condition the colored race multiplies fast; and as their mode of life in slavery is more uniform, and their diet more regular. they multiply quite as fast in slavery as in freedom. We recognise, then, the fact that the African race is a numerous and increasing portion of the people of the United States. Their color, their features, and their condition, all prove them to be naturally foreign to the dominant race and population of the country. If, life the North American Indian, they were to assume the attitude of a hostile, instead of a docile race, the result would be the same as with the Indians. The following is the parallel growth of the white and black races since 1790, viz:

This table discloses some very important facts 1. It is a fact that the white race in this country is increasing much faster than the black race, taken as two distinct families. 2. Of the two classes of blacks, free and slave, the free blacks increase the fastest. But, in regard to races, this is of no consequence. A large class of free blacks are made up of transfers from the slave to the free side-an important legal difference, but none socially. Another large class is made up of mixed children—not one of whom is transferred to the white side, but all to the free colored. There is yet remaining one great fact of momentous consequence: it is, that the black race in America, both slave and free, is continually gravitating towards the South. The centre of that population, at each census, goes farther South. Can any reasoning man believe that that is without a permanent cause, and is to be without important results? It indicates, as clearly as any fact in natural history indicates, a law of nature that the tendencies of the colored race is towards the climate of its origin; and that these tendencies will prevail, whatever artificial legislation or abstract philosophy may do or resolve.

MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY .- At Floyd's Fork, Jefferson county, Ky., on the 15th ult., Mr. Thomas Stafford was married to Polly Goben. The bride is 19, and the bridegroom 77 years of age. He weighs some 300 pounds, and is so fat as scarcely to be able to walk, and when in bed raises himself, or turns over, by means of pullies fastened to the ceiling. He went to Louisville in a wagon to procure the license, and on his return was met by the young bride at Sim Lewis's, at the forks of the road, where the parson joined them, and the ceremony was performed in the wagon, and they rode home together rejoicing.

Governor Seward's speech in favor of aid to the Collins steamers was made on Wednesday, and on Friday one hundred and fifty thousand copies of it had been subscribed for by various members of Congress. It will probably be more widely circulated than any other speech of the session.

THE DAILY AMERICAN TELEGRAPH. OUR SECOND YEAR!

One year ago this day was issued the first number of the American Telegraph. We were then assured by many intelligent citizens of Washington that it had already been fully demonstrated that such a paper could not live here, and that ours could not exist three months; while cautious men of business assured us that if we should succeed in sustaining it, then they would give us their support! The predictions of the former have proved baseless—the wish that was father to the thought has not been realized; and the promises of the latter have not been redeemed. Cut off from all hopes of the kind of patronage on which other papers of this city fatten—en-countering the overwhelming competition of Wash-ington papers supported by the government pa-tronage, and the newspapers of Baltimore, that derive their support from a commercial and manofacturing population of one hundred and eighty thousand persons—proscribed in official places—avoided by timid men in office—opposed by the concerted influence of a portion of a respectable religious communion, upon a pretext en-tirely baseless-without the influence in the community of connexions and friends to defend us from the adroit opposition of interested competitors,-we have yet maintained our position. and to-day stand before our fellow-citizens prepared to serve them faithfully, fearlessly, and independently.

We have no favors to ask. We have respect and good-will toward the people of this community, and intend to merit theirs in return. But we shall not do this by flattering their follies, or appealing to their sympathies. When such a course as this becomes necessary to insure success, we shall not be ashamed to fail. But until it does, our path shall lie onward and upward. We will neither fail nor falter.

Now for a few familiar words. Why do we not sell our paper as cheap as the Baltimore papers are sold? is the frequent question. We reply, Bocause we are not in Baltimore-hecause a con mercial city of one hundred and eighty thousand people can yield an amount of advertising cus tom not to be obtained in a community of forty thousand people who do their shopping in Balti-

Do their shopping in Baltimore! Yes, by wilful and unreasonable opposition to the only cheap paper of their own that ever could survive ights, the business men of Washington give their all the aid in their power to promote the interests of Baltimore merchants here. The Baltimore papers contain Baltimore advertisements; and the people of Washington compile their memoranda from such advertisements, send their orders to Baltimore, obtain their goods there, and thus make our own storekeepers pay a well-merited penalty. Would we proscribe the papers of Baltimore? By no means. We regard the morning as flat and dull that does not bring them to us. We are willing to encourage their circulation here. They should bring light and knowledge to every home and place of business throughout our whole city. Every one should rejoice in the facilities they afford. But the extensive circulation of a Washington afternoon paper, with the advertisements of Washington business people, should preserve us from the temptation of sending to Baltimore for those commodities which can as well be obtained in Washington. It was with special reference to this that we commenced an afternoon paper. We knew the advantages offered by the penny press of Baltimore-we appreciated them fully; we did not wish to come in conflict with them. We intended not to cross the path of those journals; and we believed our purposes would be approved by our own people. By many they have; but not by all. So far from this, we seriously doubt (call it egotism if you will!) that there is another man in Washington who would have clung to an enterprise as the writer of this has adhered to that upon which he had embarked-laboring without present recompense, and with but feeble hope for the future; and even, from bitter necessity, submitting to a transitory public misapprehension of his true position in particulars of the most serious moment. But away with the past. The present around us, and the prospect before, are what now con-cern us. We have no revenges—no regrets. We have no enemies that we know of, and care not a stand by our friends, to make them many, to conciliate no bigot, to flatter no money-worshipper, to bow before no official upstart, to sanction

If, therefore, any of our fellow-citizens shall feel inclined to give us kind words of encouragement, and to render us kindly aid, at the commencement of this our second year, we cordially invite them to our office. We will greet them at the threshold with a friendly welcome, endeavor to make a good return for all the benefits we shall receive at their hands, and preserve them from all future regrets that such has been their

WILMINGTON BUARDING SCHOOL
FOR BOYS.—This institution is situated in one of the healthlest parts of the city of Wilmington, entirely beyond the settled portions of the town. The uniform healthfulness of the location may be inferred from the fact that, since the establishment of the School, about twenty-eight years, very few cases of serious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single death either here, or from diseases contracted while here.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Physiology, History, Rhetoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and the Latin, Greek, and French Languages. Particular attention is paid to the higher Mathematics and their application to Mechanics and Engineering; the latter and Surveying are taught practically by field operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important principles are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as thorough and practical as possible, no expense has been spared in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the country. A carefully selected library, of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Literature and Science, furnishes ample reading matter; while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and tests, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

The school year commenced on the third Second-day (Monday) of the Ninth month, (September,) and is divided into four quarters of eleven weeks each, leaving a vacation of two months, from about the middle of the Seventh month (July).
